Hi Emma,

You would need to submit an appeal for a late add. It's good that you have email from the professor saying that you can add the class, because you would need to include that as a supporting document. I see that you're already registered for 16 credits, though, so you would also need approval to register for 19 credits and confirm that you are aware that you will incur extra cost by exceeding the 12-18 credit range for full-time tuition. In order to get approval for 19 credits, I need you to submit a short proposal that details your course load and schedule along with how you plan to manage your time to be able to complete all of the coursework. I will then present that to the program director for approval. If you are approved, then I can walk you through submitting the appeal.

All best,
Knox

Ok I will have a look.

In the meantime I will email my academic advisor about officially joining the class as long as that's ok by you?
